BENEDICTION

+ STRIPPING OF THE ALTAR +

PSALM 22

As the psalm is spoken, linens, paraments, ornaments, and candles will be removed from the chancel. The altar symbolizes Christ; removing its usual adornments symbolizes the abuse our Lord endured this night.

There is no Benediction; our worship continues with the Service of Tenebrae (darkness) tomorrow.

(Please observe silence while departing.)
